Barometer

A RISING BAROMETER.

A rapid rise indicates unsettled weather.

A gradual rise indicates settled weather.

A rise with dry air and cold increasing in summer indicates wind from the northward; and if rain has fallen, better weather may be expected.

A rise with moist air and a low temperature indicates wind and rain from the northward.

A rise with southerly winds indicates fine weather.

A STEADY BAROMETER.

With dry air and seasonable temperature indicates a continuance of very fine weather.

A FALLING BAROMETER.

A rapid fall indicates stormy weather.

A rapid fall with a westerly wind indicates stormy weather from the northward.

A fall with a northerly wind indicates storm, with rain and hail in summer, and snow in winter.

A fall with increased moisture in the air, and heat increasing, indicates wind and rain from the southward.

A fall with dry air and cold increasing in winter indicates snow.

A fall after very calm and warm weather indicates rain with squally weather.

To Tell Time of Tide

The time of high water at the places following may be found approximately for each day by adding or subtracting from the time of high water at New-York the hours and minutes annexed.

Rules for Computing Interest

The following will be found to be excellent rules for finding the interest on any principal for any number of days. When the principal contains cents, point off four places from the right of the result to express the interest in dollars and cents. When the principal contains dollars only, point off two places.

Four per Cent.—Multiply the principal by the number of days to run, and divide by 90.

Five per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 72.

Six per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 60.

Seven per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 52.

Eight per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 45.

Nine per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 40.

Ten per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 36.

Twelve per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 30.

Fifteen per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 24.

Eighteen per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 20.

Twenty per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 18.

Twenty-four per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 15.

The Metric System

The Metric System of Weights and Measures has been legalized by act of Congress, July 28, 1896.

METRIC WEIGHTS.—10 milligrams make 1 centigram, 10 centigrams 1 decigram, 10 decigrams 1 gram, 10 grams 1 dekagram, 10 dekagrams 1 hektogram, 10 hektograms 1 kilogram, 1,000 kilograms 1 metric ton.

METRIC MEASURES.—(One milliliter equals cubic centimeter.) 10 milliliters make 1 centiliter, 10 centiliters 1 deciliter, 10 deciliters 1 liter, 10 liters 1 dekaliter, 10 dekaliters 1 hektoliter, 10 hektoliters 1 kiloliter.

METRIC LENGTHS.—10 millimeters make 1 centimeter, 10 centimeters 1 decimeter, 10 decimeters 1 meter, 10 meters 1 dekameter, 10 dekameters 1 hektometer, 10 hektometers 1 kilometer.

APPROXIMATE EQUIVALENTS.

A meter is about a yard; a kilo is about 2 pounds; a liter is about a quart; a centimeter is about ½ inch; a metric ton is about same as an ordinary ton; a kilometer is about ¾ mile; a cubic centimeter is about a thimbleful. A nickel five-cent piece of our coinage is a handy key to metric measures and weights. It is two centimeters in diameter and weighs five grams.

PRECISE EQUIVALENTS.

1 acre equals .4047 hectare; 1 bushel, 35.24 liters; 1 centimeter .3937 inch; 1 cubic centimeter, .0690 cubic inch; 1 cubic foot, .0283 cubic meter; 1 cubic inch, 16.39 cubic cent.; 1 cubic meter, 35.31 cubic feet; 1 cubic meter, 1.358 cubic yards; 1 cubic yard, .7645 cubic meter; 1 foot, 30.48 centimeters; 1 gallon, 3.785 liters; 1 grain, .0648 gram; 1 gram, 15.43 grains; 1 hectare, 2.471 acres; 1 inch, 25.40 millimeters; 1 kilogram, 2.20 pounds; 1 kilometer, .6214 mile; 1 liter, .9081 quart (dry); 1 liter, 1.057 quart (liquid); 1 meter, 3.281 feet; 1 mile, 1.609 kilometers; 1 millimeter, .0394 inch; 1 ounce (avd.), 28.35 grams; 1 ounce (Troy), 31.10 grams; 1 ounce (metric), 28.35 grams; 1 pint, .473 liter; 1 pound, .4536 kilogram; 1 quart (dry), 1.105 liters; 1 quart (liquid), .9464 liter; 1 sq. centimeter, 1.550 sq. inch; 1 sq. foot, .0929 sq. meter; 1 sq. inch, 6.452 sq. cent.; 1 sq. meter, 1.196 sq. yards; 1 sq. meter, 10.76 sq. feet; 1 sq. yard, .8361 sq. meter; 1 ton (2,000 lbs.), .9072 metric ton; 1 ton (2,240 lbs.), 1.016 metric ton; 1 ton (metric), 1.102 ton (2,000 lbs.); 1 ton (metric), 2.205 ton (2,240 lbs.); 1 yard, .9144 meter.

Help in Case of Accidents

BURNS AND SCALDS.—Cover with cooking soda and lay wet cloths over it. Whites of eggs and olive oil. Olive oil or linseed oil, plain, or mixed with chalk or whiting. Sweet or olive oil and lime-water. Shock, which is always present in severe burns, requires the administration of stimulants. Pain is more constant and intense in burns than in any other form of injury, and requires sedatives, which should be administered by the medical attendant. Later on the appearances of inflammation and other complications are to be carefully watched for.

SUFFOCATION FROM INHALING ILLUMINATING GAS.—Get into the fresh air as soon as possible and lie down. Keep warm. Take ammonia—twenty drops to a tumbler of water, at frequent intervals; also, two to four drops tincture of nux vomica every hour or two for five or six hours.

TESTS OF DEATH.—Hold mirror to mouth. If living, moisture will gather. Push pin into flesh. If dead, the hole will remain; if alive, it will close up. Place fingers in front of a strong light. If alive, they will appear red; if dead, black or dark.

MAD DOG OR SNAKE-BITE.—Tie cord tight above wound. Suck the wound and cauterize with caustic or white-hot iron at once, or cut out adjoining parts with a sharp knife. Give stimulants, as whisky, brandy, etc.

FIRE IN ONE'S CLOTHING.—Don't run—especially not downstairs or out-of-doors. Roll on carpet, or wrap in woollen rug or blanket. Keep the head down, so as not to inhale flame.

FIRE FROM KEROSENE.—Don't use water, it will spread the flames. Dirt, sand, or flour is the best extinguisher, or smother with woollen rug, table-cloth, or carpet.

CINDERS IN THE EYE.—Roll soft paper up like a lamp lighter, and wet the tip to remove, or use a medicine dropper to draw it out. Rub the other eye.

Fainting.—Place flat on back; allow fresh air, and sprinkle with water. Place head lower than rest of body.

STINGS OF VENOMOUS INSECTS, ETC.—Apply weak ammonia, oil, salt water, or iodine.

LIGHTNING.—Dash cold water over a person struck.

Help in Case of Accidents

DROWNING.—1. Loosen clothing, if any. 2. Empty lungs of water by laying body on its stomach, and lifting it by the middle so that the head hangs down. Jerk the body a few times. 3. Pull tongue forward, using handkerchief, or pin with string, if necessary. 4. Imitate motion of respiration by alternately compressing and expanding the lower ribs, about twenty times a minute. Alternately raising and lowering the arms from the sides up above the head will stimulate the action of the lungs. Let it be done gently but persistently. 5. Apply warmth and friction to extremities. 6. By holding tongue forward, closing the nostrils, and pressing the "Adam's apple" back (so as to close entrance to stomach), direct inflation may be tried. Take a deep breath and breathe it forcibly into the mouth of patient, compress the chest to expel the air, and repeat the operation. 7. DON'T GIVE UP! People have been saved after HOURS of patient, vigorous effort. 8. When breathing begins, get patient into a warm bed, give WARM drinks, or spirits in teaspoonfuls, fresh air, and quiet.

SUNSTROKE.—There are two important indications for treatment—reduction of temperature and the use of stimulants. The patient should first be removed to a cooler spot if possible, or at least where shade can be secured. The treatment should be begun at once. The clothing about the neck and body must be either loosened or removed. Cold is particularly indicated in cases where there is great heat of the body, and delirium and convulsive movements are present. This means of reducing the temperature may be applied in the shape of cracked ice about the head and spine, or the use of cold water. If the heat of the body is very great, it may be necessary to wrap the patient in sheets wet with cold water. If there is, besides the great heat, evidence of serious depression, stimulants must be used while the cold is being applied.

HÆMORRHAGE.—The usual treatment is rest in the recumbent position; small pieces of ice should be freely swallowed, and the application of ice wrapped in a towel or in an ice-bag, or snow, cold water, etc., over the stomach; hot applications may be applied to the extremities.

FIRE IN A BUILDING.—Crawl on the floor. The clearest air is the lowest in the room. Cover head with woollen wrap, wet if possible. Cut holes for the eyes. Don't get excited.

Poisons and Antidotes

FIRST.—Send for a physician.

SECOND.—INDUCE VOMITING, by tickling throat with feather or finger. Drink hot water or strong mustard and water. Swallow sweet oil or whites of eggs.

Acids are antidotes for alkalis, and vice versa.

ACIDS, MINERAL.—Chalk, magnesia (plaster off wall in emergency), solution carbonate of soda, emollient drinks, fixed oils.

ACID, CARBOLIC.—Any soluble sulphate, such as magnesia.

ACID, HYDROCYANIC.—Fresh air and artificial respiration, with cold effusion. Ammonia by inhalation and intravenously in vein of leg.

ACONITE.—Emetics, stimulants, external and internal; keep up external heat, keep flat on back.

ANTIMONY TART.—Vegetable acids, such as tannic acid, catechu.

ARSENIC.—Freshly precipitated hydrated sesquioxide of iron made by adding magnesia to any iron solution.

ATROPIA.—Same as Belladonna.

BELLADONNA.—Emetics—mustard flour in water; give physostigma or pilocarpine; cold to head.

CANTHARIDES.—Emetics, emollient drinks, opiates by mouth and rectum, large draughts of water to flush kidneys.

CHLORINE WATER.—Albumen, white of egg, milk, sour.

CHLOROFORM.—Fresh air, artificial respiration (inclining head down, pull tongue forward), brandy and ammonia intravenously in leg, the HYPODERMIC injection of 15 m. tincture of digitalis and 1-60 of a grain of atropine.

COLCHICUM.—Emetics, followed by demulcent drinks. If coma be present brandy, ammonia, coffee. Opium in large dose. Keep up external heat.

CONIUM.—Emetics, followed by stimulants external and internal.

CORROSIVE SUBLIMATE.—Albumen, white of egg (4 gr. sublimate require white of one egg), flour, milk. Equal parts of lime water and milk. Emetics, or evacuate stomach by pump.

Poisons and Antidotes

COPPER SULPH.—Yellow prussiate of potash or soap.

CROTON OIL.—Emetics; wash out stomach, followed by mucilaginous fluids, containing opium.

DIGITALIS.—Recumbent posture after emetics. Emetics and opium; give tincture aconite.

ELATERIUM.—Demulcent drinks, enemata of opium, and external heat.

HYOSCYAMUS.—Stomach pump, emetics, stimulants external and internal, physostigma and pilocarpine.

ILLUMINATING GAS.—Hypodermic injections of nitroglycerin are recommended by Kloman, of Baltimore.

IODINE.—Emetics and demulcent drinks, starch or flour diffused in water, opium and external heat.

LEAD SALTS.—Any soluble sulphate, either magnesia or soda, succeeded by emetics, and afterwards by opium and milk.

LOBELLA.—Stimulants externally and internally; external heat.

MORPHINE.—Same as opium.

NUX VOMICA.—30 grs. of chloral and 50 grs. of bromide of potash. Nitrite of amyl.

OPIMUM.—Atropine hypodermically till respirations number 8 per minute. Stomach pump, stimulants, external and internal, brandy and coffee, cold effusion, ammonia to nostrils, galvanic shocks, compelling to move about, artificial respiration, electric brush. Permanganate of Potash.

OXALIC ACID.—Lime, not potash or soda.

PHOSPHORUS.—Sulphate of copper in emetic dose as chemical antidote. No oils. Emetics and purgatives.

POTASH AND SODA SALTS.—Dilute acetic acid, citric acid, lemon juice, fixed oils, demulcents, vinegar.

SILVER NITRATE.—Solution of common salt and demulcent drinks. Emetics.

STRAMONIUM.—Same as Belladonna.

STRYCHNINE.—Same as Nux Vomica.

TOBACCO.—Emetic, stimulants, external and internal, strychnine, external heat.

ZINC SALTS.—Carbonate of soda, emetics, warm demulcent drinks.

MISS BOLDT ENGAGED TO WALTER WHITE

Granddaughter of Late George
C. Boldt Is to Wed Son of Mrs. Harry White.

MARGARET POPE BETROTHED

Detroit Girl, a Graduate of Vassar, to Marry Frederick Kingsbury
Trask Jr. of This City.

George C. Boldt Jr. of this city and Santa Barbara, Cal., has announced the engagement of his elder daughter, Miss Manuelita Boldt, to Walter White, elder son of Mrs. Harry White of 35 East Eighty-fourth Street and the late Mr. White of Baltimore. Miss Boldt is the daughter of the present Mrs. Mead A. Lewis and a granddaughter of the late George C. Boldt, for many years head of the Waldorf-Astoria. She is a niece of Mrs. Nils R. Johaneson of this city. Miss Boldt attended the Spence School and was graduated from the Santa Barbara Girls' School. She is a member of the Junior League. Miss Boldt was introduced to society in this city in the season of 1927, and since then has divided her time between New York and Santa Barbara.

Mr. White is a nephew of the late Dr. Walter B. James of New York and the brother of Henry J. White. He was graduated from Princeton with the class of '16, and during the World War he served overseas in the naval aviation service. He is a member of the University, Princeton and Lunch Clubs. Mr. White is associated with the Fokker Aircraft Corporation, now affiliated with General Motors.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Pope—Trask.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pope of Detroit have announced to their friends in New York the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Pope, to Frederick Kingsbury Trask Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kingsbury Trask of this city.

Miss Pope was graduated from Vassar College last June. Mr. Trask is a graduate of Harvard University.

No date has been mentioned for the wedding.

Battles—Newlin.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Battles of Echo Valley Farm, Newtown Square, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Belle Battles, to Earl Mortimer Newlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ver Plank Newlin of Wayne.

Miss Battles is a member of the Merion Cricket Club, Colonial Dames of America and the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mr. Newlin, a World War veteran, was graduated in 1924 from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is a member of the Racquet and Merion Cricket Clubs.

MISS ADAMS WED TO C. W. LOCKWOOD

April 19 29

Ceremony Performed by the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray at the Home of Bride's Parents.

MRS. A. HAEBLER A BRIDE

Married to Neil G. Finch in Cadet
Chapel of U. S. Military Academy
—Other Nuptials.

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Ponder Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hearne Oliver Adams of 119 East Eighty-fourth Street, formerly of Dallas, Texas, to Chester W. Lockwood, son of Mrs. Thomas W. Lockwood of Washington, D. C., and the late Mr. Lockwood, took place yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Only members of the two families witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray, rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, where it was originally planned to have the wedding. This arrangement had to be given up owing to the recent illness of the bride, as it was thought at one time that the wedding would have to be postponed.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a period gown of white satin and a veil of old point lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Miss Elizabeth McKinney of Cleveland was the bride's only attendant.

H. Winthrop Lockwood was best man for his brother.

Mr. Lockwood and his bride sail today on the Bermuda for Bermuda.

On their return they will live in Washington, where he is in business. He is a member of the Chevy Chase and Burning Tree Clubs of Washington.

Ceremony in Chapel of St. Bartholomew's Performed by the Rev. Dr. Norwood.

MISS V. TANGEMAN BRIDE

Married to Arthur M. Cottrell Jr. at Home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B.
Jourdan—Other Nuptials.

Miss Margaret Gracie Paris, daughter of Francis Ulshoeffter Paris and the late Mrs. Paris, was married to Robert Arthur Howes, son of Mrs. Robert Arthur Howes of Colorado Springs and the late Mr. Howes, yesterday afternoon in the chapel of St. Bartholomew's Church. The Rev. Dr. Robert Norwood, the rector, performed the ceremony in the presence of near relatives and a few close friends.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a costume of blue and yellow flowered chiffon and beige straw hat. Instead of carrying a bouquet she wore a corsage of gardenias.

The bride was attended by her young niece and nephew as flower girl and page, Star Paris, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Paris 2d, and Irving Paris Phelps, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walter Phelps. The flower girl wore a costume of primrose yellow crêpe de chine and leghorn hat, and the boy wore black velvet and a white silk blouse.

The ceremony was followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's father, 145 East Fifty-fourth Street.

INGE PRAISES WOMEN ON ABBREVIATED MODE

Dean of St. Paul's Dips Into Verse in Discussing Value of Short Skirt Style.

LONDON (AP).—The value of sunlight on the human frame has been proclaimed by Dean Inge of St. Paul's Cathedral with the following bit of verse, which he recited at the opening meeting of the Sunlight League:

Half an inch shorter, half an inch shorter,
Same skirts for mother and daughter;
When the wind blows,
Everything shows,
Both what should and what didn't oughter.

Dean Inge praised the women's revolt from the extensive covering they indulged in forty or fifty years ago, saying that the movement of the Sunlight League was carrying on further the salutary effects of milady's discard of heavy clothes.

"However, we have to beware of admitting cranks and freaks," he said. "There is a certain sect on the Continent, and particularly in Germany, which believes in walking about nude. In Germany it is possible to see bands of young enthusiasts of both sexes going about without clothes. There is nothing objectionable in that. But clothes are a matter of convention, and it is necessary to hold at arms' length certain unwholesome people."

2 NEW YORK WOMEN BEG WAY IN RUSSIA

Mrs. Mabel Ingalls, Morgan's
Niece, and Mary Cogswell
Are Robbed on Train.

TRAVELED CAUCASUS ALONE

Reach Moscow on Borrowed
Money After an Adventurous
Trip Through the Wilds.

By WALTER DURANTY.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—Two wealthy young women from New York arrived in Moscow today with mingled tears and smiles after a daring trip through the Caucasus Mountains, alone except for an Armenian guide.

The young women are Miss Mary Van Rensselaer Cogswell and Mrs. Mabel Satterlee Ingalls, a niece of J. P. Morgan. The tears were for some bracelets Miss Cogswell lost when they were robbed on a train yesterday and the smiles for their adventures, particularly after they found themselves without money, tickets or knowledge of the language of the country and had to begin borrowing money right and left from strangers who could not understand them.

"I don't mind about the passport—I hope they keep me here for months—and I don't mind about the money, but I wept all yesterday for my bracelets, not for their value but because I liked them so much," lamented Miss Cogswell.

If Miss Cogswell's adventure with her companion does not set half of New York's younger set a-travel through the Caucasus next year it will not be for lack of interest in its telling. She possesses inimitable nerve and the true storyteller's gift of drawing word pictures. One sees her sitting in a third-class Russian coach, weeping like a Niobe and surrounded by sympathetic Bolsheviks proffering their handkerchiefs—"the thief took mine with the pocketbook and bracelets and Mabel was asleep in the compartment all the time, with her pocketbook under her pillow, and I had stepped out to look at a station," she explains.

Another picture—Miss Cogswell coaxing a station agent at Vladikavkas, before the robbery, to sell them tickets to Moscow:

"They said at the window all the seats were reserved already and we could not change our travelers' checks—we only had 50 kopecks over the price of 'hard' [third-class] seats to Moscow, so we had to leave the guide behind, but we took on mattresses lent by the Near East Relief in Tiflis. So I went in and talked to him and he gave us seats."

"What did you talk?" asked some one.

"Oh, we talked German," was the reply, and Mrs. Ingalls put in a smiling: "Molly's idea of German is mostly tacking German endings on English words—sometimes it worked, sometimes it did not. One whiskered Russian said to me, seriously, 'You talk better, but your young comrade talks more.'

A third ableau, Miss Cogswell tipping a Red Army General who, as they found later, was all puffed up, not on account of his rank, but because he had just climbed Mount Elboros in record time.

"I thought he was the porter, and he was most helpful. He wore no marks of rank, in fact, nothing save a pair of breeches and long moustaches and an openwork undershirt. I think he thought I was trying to pay him back—we borrowed from every one—and had mistaken him for some one else. He lent me handkerchiefs, too."

Benefactor Also Robbed.

Then there was a sad story of a young Communist—"a nice young man who shared our compartment the first night from Vladikavkas. We borrowed some money from him in order to move to a 'soft' car, and when we next saw him he had been robbed too."

As a matter of fact, pilfering on trains here is so common—except on the International Wagonlit cars, which are carefully watched, and even their travelers are warned to keep windows shut lest thieves fish out their bags on the ends of curved poles—that experienced Russians chain themselves to their baggage when they retire.

Picture next the all-powerful Gay-payoo [secret police] being consulted after the robbery:

"He took down the details and seemed quite interested, but showed real excitement when he found we had paid a ruble instead of twenty-five kopecks for a cake of chocolate and dragged us along to the woman who sold it at the station and made her pay us back and raised hell with her."

Mistaken for Osetians.

And Miss Cogswell riding a lame Georgian pony in the mountains, wearing camel-hair breeches, a white linen coat and a huge cowboy hat of white felt—bought second-handed in Tiflis.

"They thought we were Osetians because we had come from Osetia and did not speak their lingo any more than Osetians did, but I was so tired after thirteen hours of riding I just lay down and went to sleep. Next time I go to the Caucasus I will take my own saddle. Theirs has a wooden pommel in front and another behind and a ridge in the middle—talk about riding up mountains!"

The young women hired an entire autobus from Tiflis for the first day's journey and nearly paid for it by picking up passengers en route. Then they had a "marvelous time" in an Osetian village:

"We slept in a schoolroom with thirteen other people and the food was terrible, especially the butter. But we had a tin of cocoa and mixed it with sugar and water and lived on that."

Somewhere along the route they were arrested for taking photographs, but the New York Miss Marco Polo dismisses the incident briefly with:

"They let us go after two hours, and asked us to share their auto on the next stage, but there wasn't enough room."

Both girls, in the best of health and spirits, now propose to see the crown jewels and the Kremlin, but they admit the Soviet capital is restful after the Caucasian saddles.

Mrs. Ingalls spoke strongly for Russian honesty. She forgot $60 in gold wrapped up in a piece of paper in a special train but the conductor had it waiting for her when she went back for it.

Planned to Climb Mt. Ararat.

MOSCOW, Aug. 12 (AP).—Miss Cogswell was in borrowed clothing on her arrival here tonight. She and Mrs. Ingalls, who entered Russia with the recently concluded American tour of the Soviet Union, left the delegation at Tiflis, Georgia, and made their way into Armenia with the intention of becoming the first of their sex to climb Mount Ararat, a 7,000-foot peak that few men have succeeded in mounting. However, the Turkish and Persian governments refused to permit them to try it.

Visiting Card Was Passport.

Mrs. Ingalls and Miss Cogswell have been traveling in Russia with a party of Americans touring under the auspices of the Russian-American Chamber of Commerce. They left the party for a tour of the Caucasus region.

Mrs. Ingalls lives at 21 Beekman Place. Miss Cogswell is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Van Rensselaer Cogswell of 1,020 Fifth Avenue.

Mrs. Ingalls and Miss Cogswell did not enter Russia with the touring party, but went separately by train from Berlin. Miss Cogswell had neglected to obtain a passport visa, but on arrival at the Russian border, she not only persuaded the officials to let her enter with her visiting card as her only credential, but they even remitted the customary $11 fee. She was the first woman since the war to enter Russia without a passport.

MISS BOLDT WED TO WALTER WHITE

Ceremony in St. Bartholomew's
Chapel Is Performed by Rev.
Dr. Robert Norwood.

RECEPTION AT SHERRY'S

Miss Ruth Brill Married to Jack
Kugelman by Rev. Dr. Krass at the Ritz-Carlton.

Miss Manuelita Boldt, elder daughter of George Charles Boldt Jr. of this city and Santa Barbara, Cal., and the present Mrs. Mead A. Lewis, also of New York, was married to Walter White, elder son of Mrs. Harry White of this city and the late Mr. White of Baltimore, yesterday afternoon in the chapel of St. Bartholomew's Church. The Rev. Dr. Robert Norwood, rector, performed the ceremony in the presence of a small gathering of relatives and friends. The chancel was banked with Australian ferns and there were vases of white chrysanthemums on the altar.

The bride was escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of cream-colored satin made on simple lines embellished with old rose point lace, belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Nils R. Johanesson. There was a deep yoke of the lace on the bodice, and the long, close sleeves were finished with cuffs of it. The long train, a part of the skirt, was bordered with a wide band of the lace. The bride's voluminous veil of tulle was held in place with a coronet of the same beautiful lace. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Louise Boldt was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a frock of deep peach-colored tulle and chiffon embroidered with chenille flowers. The full skirt was made with a wide ruffle of tulle. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Clover Wotherspoon Miles, cousin of the bride; Marcia Umbesen of Santa Barbara, Alice H. Eastland of Burlingame and Harriet T. Brownell of San Francisco. Their frocks were similar to that of the maid of honor, of a lighter shade of peach-color tulle and chiffon, and they carried bouquets of African daisies, roses and chrysanthemums in Autumn shades. They all wore hats of velvet matching their gowns.

George A. Sloan was best man for Mr. White, whose ushers were Henry J. White, his brother; Hamilton Fish Armstrong, Roland Palmedo and William de Forest Manice.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at Sherry's. The couple received the congratulations of their friends and relatives in the foyer against a background of ferns and Autumn flowers. They were assisted by Mrs. Nils R. Johanesson, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Harry White, the bridegroom's mother.

Mr. White and his bride will go to Bermuda on their wedding trip. On their return they will live at 145 East Ninety-second Street. She is a granddaughter of the late George C. Boldt, for many years head of the Waldorf-Astoria. Mr. White is a nephew of the late Dr. Walter B. James of this city.

Bank Manager Surrenders in $300,000 Thefts; Says He Started Stealing to Cover Bad Loan

Systematic peculations of bank funds over three years, begun to make up a loss of $4,000 incurred on a bad loan and pyramided to a figure put as high as $300,000, were disclosed yesterday when Louis Dietz, assistant manager of the Broadway-Gates Avenue branch of the Brooklyn Trust Company, surrendered to District Attorney Dodd after a week's disappearance.

Dietz lives at 195-16 111th Street, Hollis, L. I. He is married and has one child. After a two hours' examination by Mr. Dodd yesterday afternoon he was taken to the Raymond Street jail, charged with grand larceny.

The Broadway-Gates Avenue branch of the Brooklyn Trust Company was formerly known as the Mechanics Trust Company. It was taken over by the Brooklyn Trust last month. Two weeks ago the branch managers were notified that an examination of the records of all branches would be made the following week. Dietz was assigned to examine the records of the Myrtle Avenue branch, while another branch manager was to examine Dietz's records. When Dietz failed to appear at the Myrtle Avenue branch, bank examiners were assigned to look over his records, and the peculations were discovered. In the meantime Dietz had disappeared.

The circumstances under which Dietz gave himself up were not disclosed yesterday. Mr. Dodd said that he had been hiding in Newark but that his surrender was voluntary. He was brought into the District Attorney's office by Detectives Thomas Fitzgerald and Charles Pritting.

E. P. Maynard, chairman of the board of trustees of the Brooklyn Trust Company, 177 Montague Street, Brooklyn, said he did not know how much the thefts would amount to.

"It is a very sad affair," he said. "Dietz has confessed to embezzlement from our Broadway branch, which we took over on Feb. 8."

Dietz began his employment in the bank as an office boy in 1911 and worked up to the position he held at the time of his disappearance. According to the story he told Mr. Dodd, he made a loan to a customer about three years ago, and the collateral put up by the customer subsequently decreased to an amount that was $4,000 short of the sum required. He said he opened a fictitious account in order to draw a certified check to cover that loss. He attempted to repay the check by speculation, but he lost, and was led to open another fictitious account. Each time he got further in the hole, and finally he took to forging notes on extra collateral put up by customers for loans. He attended to every detail himself, and he kept the accounts in such good order that the embezzlements escaped detection during the regular examinations.

Dietz lived in a prosperous section of Hollis, in a two-story private dwelling. He had a garage and owned a car, according to his neighbors. Although they knew nothing of his personal affairs, they said yesterday that Dietz seemed very prosperous.
